Alma Mater—Carmen Ohio

Graduates and guests led by
Amy Renee Zimmerman

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Awarding of Diplomas

Recessional

President Gee looks forward to personally congratulating you and your graduate immediately following the ceremony in French Field House.

Excerpts from the commencement
ceremony will be broadcast on WOSU-TV,
Channel 34, at 5:30 p.m. today.

Commencement Address

Herb Asher

A nationally known political analyst and expert on voting behavior, Herb Asher is respected by students, teachers, scholars, and politicians of all affiliations. He is currently professor emeritus of political science at Ohio State and serves as counselor to the university president.

A 1966 graduate of Bucknell University with a bachelor of science in mathematics, Dr. Asher received his master's and doctoral degrees in political science from the University of Michigan where he was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow from 1966 to 1967. He joined the Ohio State faculty in 1970.

After 25 years of service to the university, including serving as an essential part of the administration of two presidents, Dr. Asher retired in 1995. During his tenure at Ohio State, he was the chief liaison between the university and the state government and a professor in the Department of Political Science.

He now works in a volunteer capacity on special projects for President E. Gordon Gee, including coordinating the university's interactions with the Board of Regents. Dr. Asher will teach a course on Ohio politics spring quarter and will continue to work with students on independent studies, internships, and dissertations.

Dr. Asher is the author, co-author, or co-editor of six books, including the fifth edition of Presidential Elections and American Politics: Voters, Candidates, and Campaigns since 1952, and the third edition of Polling and the Public: What Every Citizen Should Know. He is currently at work on three books, Ohio Politics and Government and Campaign Politics, as well as a humorous book on the fear of flying. He is also the author of numerous scholarly articles and a frequent panel participant and presenter at civic and professional conferences throughout the nation.

Long committed to public service, Dr. Asher has served as faculty adviser to several student organizations, including the Young Democrats, the College Republicans, and the Undergraduate Student Government. He is a member of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce Governmental Affairs Committee and the executive committee and board of trustees of Hillel.

Ohio State welcomes this distinguished member of our academic and civic community to address our graduating class.

Recipients of Honors

Leon H. Sullivan
Doctor of Humane Letters

Clergyman, civil rights leader, social activist, and businessman, Reverend Leon H. Sullivan is pastor emeritus of Philadelphia's Zion Baptist Church, which he built into one of the largest African-American congregations in the nation.

The Charleston, West Virginia, native became an ordained Baptist minister at 17. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from West Virginia State University, a degree in theology from Union Theological Seminary, and a master's degree in sociology from Columbia University.

In 1950, he became pastor of Zion Baptist Church in economically depressed north Philadelphia. A longtime advocate of black entrepreneurship, Reverend Sullivan organized an economic boycott in 1961 that resulted in 3,000 jobs opening to African-Americans. In 1964, he created the job-training agency, Opportunities Industrialization Centers, which grew into a network of community-based centers in 100 American cities and 12 African nations, training nearly two million people.

With his congregation as shareholders, he formed Progress Investment Associates in 1962, which spun off several economic improvement projects, including several housing and human services complexes.

Deeply concerned about apartheid in South Africa, Reverend Sullivan devised the Sullivan Principles in 1977 as a code of conduct for firms doing business in South Africa, helping to inaugurate a revolution in race relations in that country. Today the Sullivan Principles are associated with debt relief tied to education and responsibility in low income African countries.

He is the founder of the International Foundation for Education and Self-Help. Upon his 1988 retirement from Zion Baptist, he turned his attention toward economic development in Africa, organizing biannual African/African-American Summits to promote investment by black Americans in the future of Africa.

Reverend Sullivan is a member of the board of directors of General Motors Corporation and Mellon Bank. He is the recipient of more than 30 honorary degrees from institutions. In 1991, he received the Presidential Medal of Honor—the highest civilian award in the nation.

It is with great pride that Ohio State adds its own honor to those already bestowed on this deserving and distinguished humanitarian.

Charles L. Babcock
Distinguished Service Award

As a scholar, teacher, and mentor, Charles L. Babcock is an exemplary citizen of the university community. Now professor emeritus of classics, Dr. Babcock retired in 1992 after nearly three decades of service to Ohio State.

A native of California, Dr. Babcock received his A.B. and M.A. in Latin and his Ph.D. in Classics from the University of California at Berkeley. He did post-doctoral work in Italy as a Fulbright Scholar in Classics and Fellow of the American Academy in Rome from 1953 to 1955 before joining the faculty of Cornell University. He joined the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania in 1957, becoming assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in 1960 and vice dean in 1962.

In 1966, he joined the Ohio State faculty as professor and department chair of classics. He was named dean of the newly formed College of Humanities in 1968, serving in that capacity until 1970. He again served as department chair from 1980-88. He has maintained close ties with the American Academy in Rome, serving in a variety of teaching and administrative capacities.

During his tenure at Ohio State, Dr. Babcock served on numerous committees at the department, college, and university level, including the chairmanship of the special committee for Undergraduate Curriculum Review in Arts and Sciences, which in 1987-88 rewrote the general education curriculum.

In 1989, Dr. Babcock was honored as the first recipient of the College of Humanities Exemplary Faculty Award, now known as the Babcock Award. He is also the recipient of a 1982 Alumni Distinguished Teaching Award. He has been an unstinting supporter and mentor of both students and faculty, appointing the first female faculty member in the Department of Classics nearly 30 years ago.

He has served as president of the Vergilian Society of America and the Classical Association of the Midwest and South and as director of the American Philological Association. He is the author of a number of scholarly articles, papers, and presentations and is co-author of Aspects of Roman Civilization.

Ohio State is proud to honor this eminent man of letters who has served the academic community with skill and wisdom.

Recipients of Honors

Sheila A. Castellarin Distinguished Service Award

An alumna and long-time friend of Ohio State, Sheila A. Castellarin is vice president for communications and consumer affairs of Columbia Gas Distribution Companies which serve Ohio, Kentucky, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. A native of Columbus, she joined Columbia Gas in 1958 following graduation from Ohio State with a bachelor of science degree in home economics.

Ms. Castellarin's service to Ohio State began in her student days with membership in Mortar Board, Student Senate, and as president of the Panhellenic Society. As an alumna, she is an active participant in the Ohio State University Alumni Association and has maintained close ties to the College of Human Ecology (formerly Home Economics).

She has served as board member and treasurer of the Alumni Association and is a past president and treasurer and current member of Ohio State Mortar Board Alumni. She served a six-year term on the Ohio State Alumni Advisory Council and as alumni representative to the university's Advisory Committee on Women. She has also served on the Human Ecology Advisory Council and, in 1992, on that college's Dean's Search Committee, and she is a board member of the Friends of WOSU.

In recognition of her service, Ms. Castellarin received the Centennial Distinguished Alumni Award in 1970 and the College of Home Economics Distinguished Alumni Award in 1986.

A member of the American Gas Association (AGA), she received the AGA Consumer Information Award in 1973, 1976, and 1988.

An active participant in community affairs, Ms. Castellarin is a board member of Catholic Social Services, St. Stephen's Community Center, Ballet Metropolitan, Greater Columbus Arts Council, Santa Maria Inc., and the Columbus Metropolitan Library. She has served as vice president of the Columbus chapter of Women in Communications, receiving their Columbus Communicator of the Year Award in 1984.

Ohio State gratefully adds its own recognition of the many contributions of this loyal and effective alumna.

Anne G. Hayes Distinguished Service Award

Anne G. Hayes has been a cherished member of the Ohio State community since she arrived on campus in 1951 with her husband, Coach Woody Hayes.

Born in New Philadelphia, Ohio, she attended Ohio Wesleyan College, majoring in sociology and psychology. She met a young high school assistant football coach named Wayne Woodrow "Woody" Hayes in her hometown and married him in June 1942. Throughout Woody Hayes' 28 years as Ohio State's head coach, Mrs. Hayes shared her husband's commitment to the athletic program. She opened her home and her heart to hundreds of student athletes and became an excellent recruiter for Ohio State, convincing parents of the quality of this university.

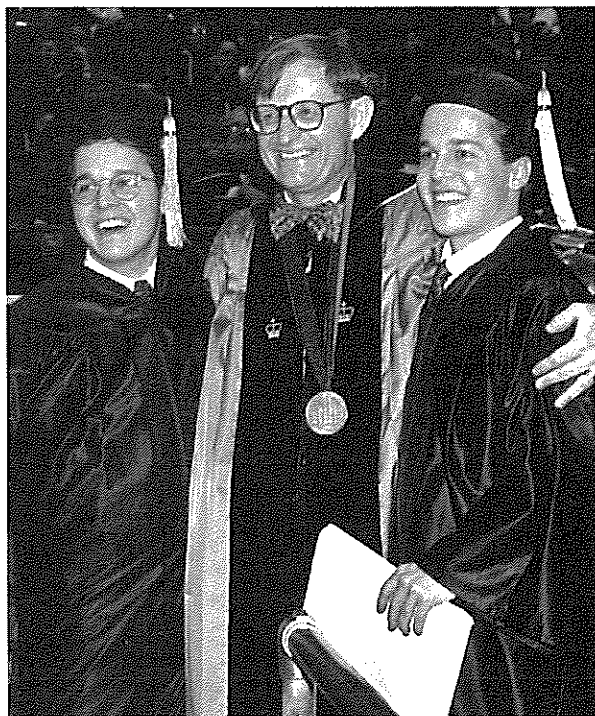

With her wonderful sense of humor, she is much sought after as a speaker and has addressed hundreds of gatherings of alumni and others through the years. Following her husband's death in 1987, Mrs. Hayes has continued her enthusiastic support of the university in numerous ways. In 1990, she donated the coach's personal papers and memorabilia to the University Archives. That same year, she established the Wayne Woodrow "Woody" Hayes Naval R.O.T.C. Leadership Award Fund to provide awards to N.R.O.T.C. students who demonstrate outstanding leadership and academic skills.

She has played a leadership role in current fund-raising for the Wayne Woodrow Hayes Chair in National Securities Studies, which will bring an internationally recognized scholar on national security to the university. She traveled throughout the country, visiting alumni groups, friends, and fans to raise the necessary endowment, and dedicated her 80th birthday party as a fund-raiser for the chair.

Her commitment to serving others is reflected in her involvement with the Cancer Society; United Way of Franklin County; Buckeye Boys Ranch; Mortar Board; and medical research on the heart, diabetes, and endocrinology.

It is with great admiration and respect that Ohio State recognizes one who has been such a remarkable and spirited supporter.

A Message From President Gee

Most of us measure our lives in year-long cycles, beginning in January and ending in December. But those of us in education observe a different calendar—one in which the year-end celebration is a graduation, and the days are counted in quarters or semesters.

For college students, the cycle begins that first autumn when they arrive on campus and advances through classes and exams, vacations and summer jobs, until commencement day finally arrives. And that day comes once four times a year when students from Ohio State graduate to the cheers of proud relatives and friends.

Now, these newly minted alumni will look back briefly and move on, shifting into the day-to-day rhythms of hoped-for employment. They will leave behind late nights filled with cold pizza and hot debate. No more 7:30 in the morning classes, but instead a 7:30 commute to the office. No more papers due for class, but reports due for work. They will trade their backpacks for briefcases, their ball caps for business suits.

There is no doubt that they have been changed by their college experience. Those years spent at a major research university represent not only a growth in knowledge, but a growth in wisdom and common sense—a maturing process that prepares a student for life in the “real world.” And that world does not stand still.

We need only look at the capitals of the world and the corporations of America to realize that powerful forces have been at work. During the time it has taken this most recent crop of graduates to complete their educations, the Soviet Union has come apart, Germany has come together, ethnic warfare has erupted, trade barriers have fallen, and once-mighty businesses have been brought to their knees by economic forces.

Today’s graduates are being launched into a world made smaller by the media and larger by the scope of our global dilemmas: the environment, ethics, illiteracy, racism, sexism, revolution, protest, famine, and poverty.

The world is crying for the compassion and creativity of our graduates. And we need their considerable energy and ingenuity to resolve conflicts, regain civility, and restore our spirits.

That is why, for all of us, graduation is a time that renews our hope in the future. As I preside over Ohio State’s commencement, I am impressed by the intelligence, dedication, and vigor of our new college graduates, young and not so young. And I feel an old, familiar feeling: optimism. Optimism about the actions our industries are taking to regain a competitive edge. Optimism about the adjustments education is making in response to a changing society. And, most of all, optimism about and faith in this new generation that is about to take its place in our society.

Today, as many of them leave school behind, their memories are bittersweet. One of Ohio State’s engineering graduates sent me a letter that, I believe, captures the great joy we share in this special rite of passage and the strength of the educational process. She wrote, “There will be at least one chemical engineer with a tear in her eye as the national anthem is played, a lump in her throat as her college is introduced, a smile on her face as she gets her diploma, and a cry of joy as her father hugs her and says, ‘I am so proud of you!’”

It is a pride in which we can all share. I thank this graduate, and thousands like her, for all they will bring to our society. They are very bright. They work very hard. They have learned to live without security, but they continue to seek it. They are ready not only to cope with change, but to create change. And they have turned away from “me-ism” and are again seeking ways to help their fellow human beings.

I am confident that when this generation assumes leadership, America will be in very good hands.

Congratulations and Welcome to the Alumni Association

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you've become an alumnus. For you, one era has passed, and another is about to begin.

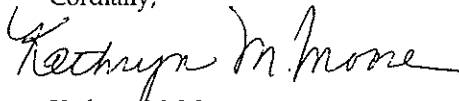

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the university in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the university to improve itself and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the university's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and those others who helped you arrive here today go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

Cordially,

Graduates with Honors

Criteria for graduating with honors are as follows:

Summa Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 3% of the class.

Magna Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 6% of the class.

Cum Laude designates those graduating in the top 10% of the class.

With Distinction requires successful completion of a Senior Honors Thesis and graduation in the top 25% of the class.

With Honors in the Liberal Arts requires successful completion of the Arts and Sciences Honors Contract and graduation in the top 25% of the class.

University Commendation designates those whose attainment of high academic standards is judged by the college to be especially meritorious.

This program is not an official graduation list

While every effort is made to ensure accuracy in this commencement program, printing deadlines sometimes prevent inclusion of graduates' names, or may result in use of names of persons not completing graduation requirements. This printed program, therefore, should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 202 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

*denotes Distinguished Military Graduate

The Academic Costume

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University Commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In the light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor. Black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master. Black, long or short sleeves with a re-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor. Black with velvet panels on front of gown and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Color of the velvet may be black or distinctive of the field of study.

The Hood

Bachelor. Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master. Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Doctor. Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study:

Dentistry	Lilac
Law	Purple
Medicine	Green
Musical Arts	Pink
Optometry	Sea-foam Green
Pharmacy	Olive Green
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Veterinary Medicine	Gray

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences
College of the Arts (B.A., B.S.I.D.)	White
(Others)	Brown
School of Music (B.A.)	White
(Others)	Pink
College of Biological Sciences	White
College of Humanities	White
College of Mathematical and Physical Sciences	White
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences	White
School of Journalism	Crimson
College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences	Maize
School of Natural Resources	Blue-Green
Fisher College of Business	Drab
School of Public Policy and Management	Peacock Blue
College of Dentistry	Lilac
College of Education	Light Blue
School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation	Sage Green
College of Engineering	Orange
Austin School of Architecture	Blue-Violet
College of Human Ecology	Maroon
College of Law	Purple
College of Medicine	Green
School of Allied Medical Professions	Green
College of Nursing	Apricot
College of Optometry	Seafoam Green
College of Pharmacy	Olive Green
College of Social Work	Citron
College of Veterinary Medicine	Gray

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and university administrative officers.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating Summa Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, Cum Laude, With Distinction, With Honors in the Liberal Arts, and With Honors in Pharmacy.

Photographs

There will be no permanent seating in the first row of the mezzanine level. Only the designated areas are reserved for your convenience in taking photographs. Only press photographers are permitted on the floor level.

Complimentary Programs

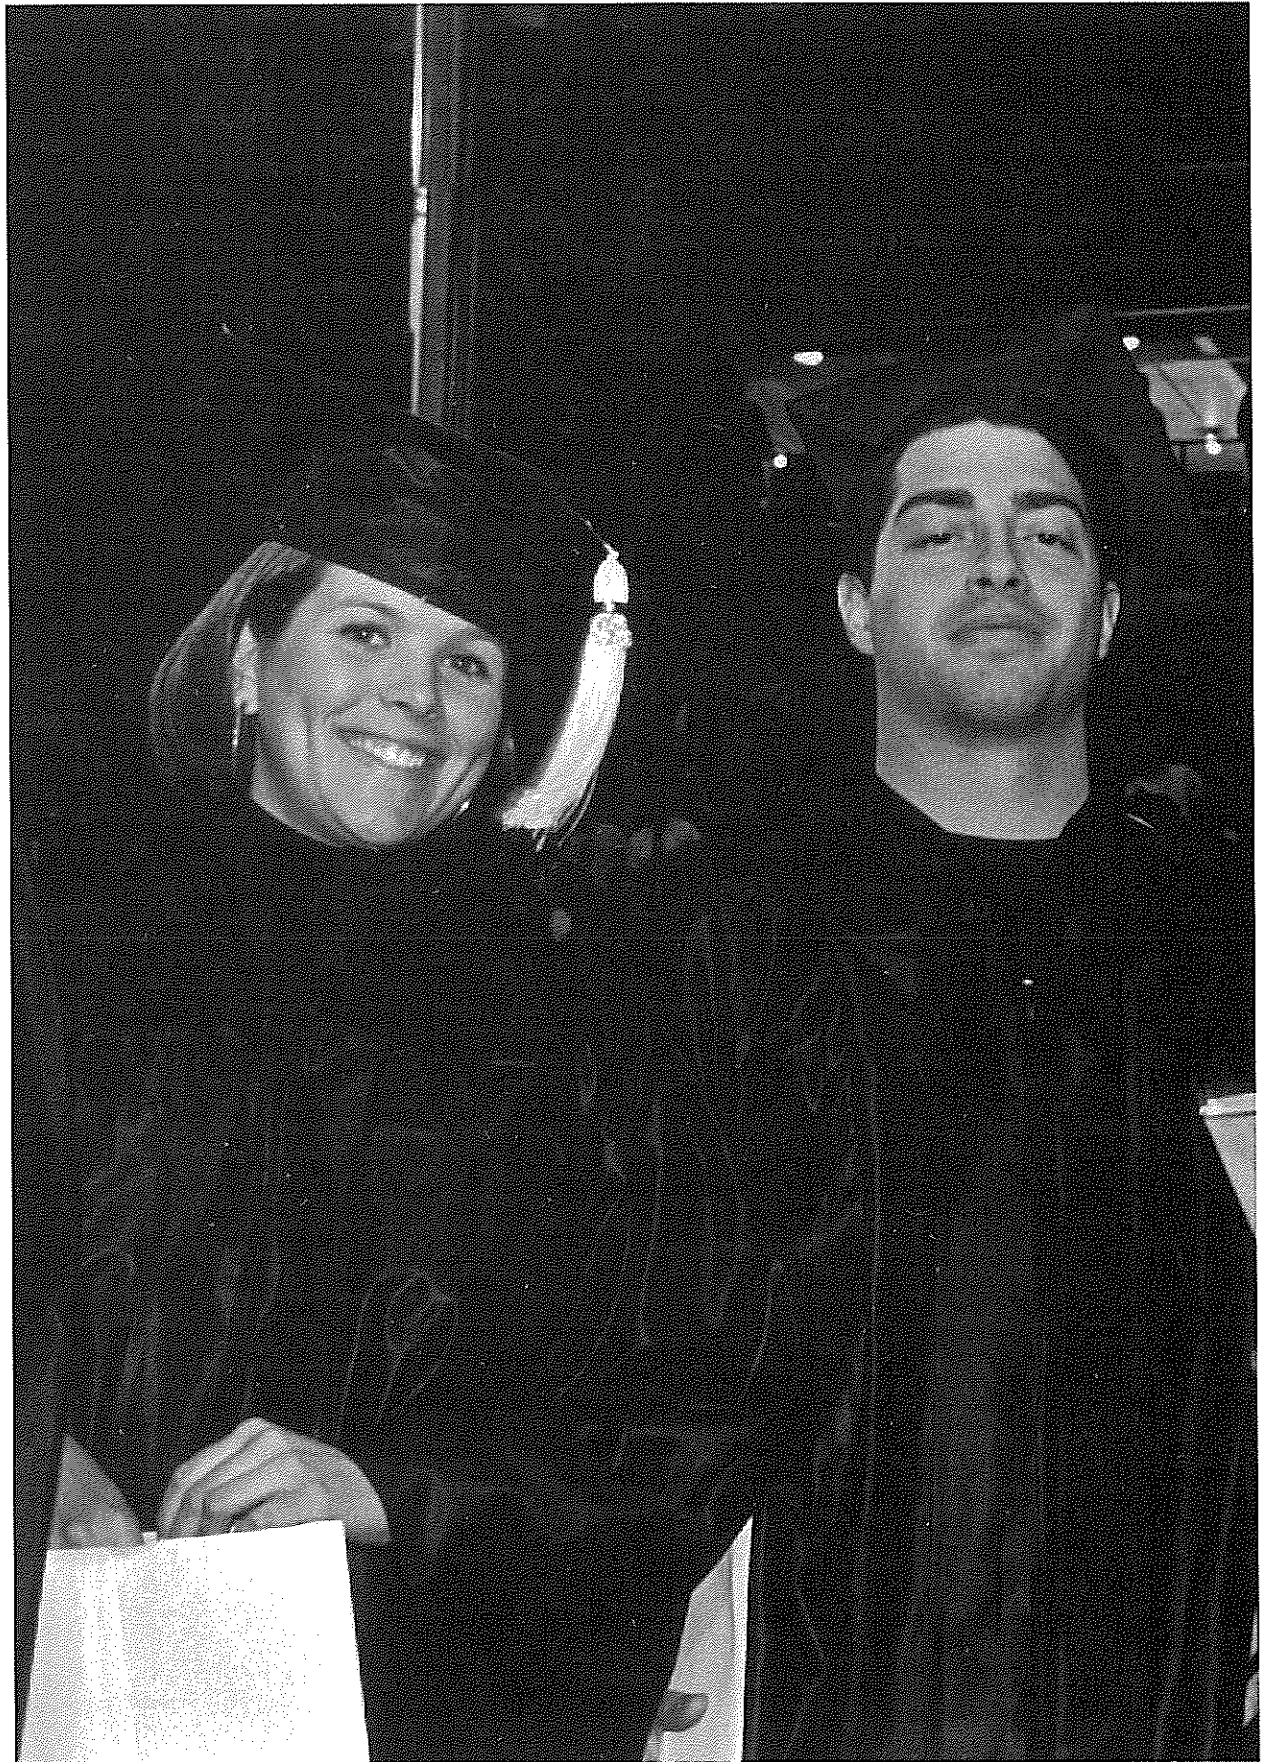

A limited number of programs are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Requests should be sent to the Office of Commencement and Special Events, 1120 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, OH 43210-1230.
