And songs to Alma Mater raise...

POMP, CIRCUMSTANCE, AND OTHER SONGS OF A LIFETIME

—by Professor David Citino, 1947-2005, Late University Poet Laureate (Originally presented as the 2000 Winter Commencement address)

If you're like me, you've got a big head,
not to mention a funny robe, full of music—
poems and melodies, the tunes
we move to, shower and shave by,
study, write to. Not just the incidental,

but the momentous music keeping time.
Our histories are measures of song.
Listen to your heart: drums of Africa,
sea-spume of blind, far-sighted Homer, Sappho's honeyed love lyrics. Often,

music speaks for us, one note saying a thousand words. Like Rodolpho in Puccini's La Bohème, Sono un poeta.
I am a poet. Che cosa faccio? What do I do? Scrivo. I write. This ceremony is loud music—pomp and circumstance

of the life you began freshman year
or that first day of graduate school.
In my head I press Play, and the CD
of Big Days kicks on. I leap and linger

over moments too sweet, nearly, for words.
I'll never escape rhymes from the nursery.
*Up above the world so high, like a diamond
in the sky*. We knew from the start our universe was aglow with wonder.

Italian, Latin, English songs in nasal accents
of Cleveland. Gaudeamus igitur, Juvenes dum sumus. So, let us rejoice, while we are young. Youth is that gift we can't comprehend while we're young. This ceremony means you all are less young than you were.

Don't let the heavy knowledge gained from your studies deprive you of the gifts of youth, to be able to rejoice at the drop of a hat, to care for, be moved by others.

Now I hear golden hits of five decades.
Big Mama Thornton, and that so-called King
(King of what, fried butter sandwiches?)
who stole away her hound dog. You ain't never killed a rabbit, you ain't no friend of mine. As with those profs and TAs, course after course, you had to produce—

kill some rabbits—to earn respect.
And at times OSU may have seemed like Heartbreak Hotel, down at the end of Lonely Street, so difficult was it to do your best. Tennessee Ernie Ford,

"Sixteen Tons": St. Peter don't you call me 'Cause I can't go. I owe my soul to the company store.

You have been digging deep in mines
of knowledge. We all owe our souls to Ohio State, company store of learning, shared experience—precious ore
we have in common forever.

Now I hear Domenico Modugno's
fervent urging to wish, sing, fly,
Volare, Wo-oo. Cantare, Wo-o-o-o.
My grandfather was a peasant farmer,
a contadino in Calabria in the toe of Italy. He knew it's the human lot to dream of flying. *Lucky, lucky,

lucky me, I'm a lucky son-of-a-gun*.
*I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours,
That leaves eight hours for fun*.

Hey! He sailed in steerage across the Atlantic, came to Cleveland, where he stayed long enough to work 52 years
for the B&O Railroad, before lying down to rest in good Ohio soil. So many of us here today came from elsewhere,

or ancestors did. From Tennessee, Italy, Africa, Asia, Appalachia—even,
President Kirwan, the wilds of Kentucky and Maryland. Women and men with backs supple as birch trunks. The courage

it took to pick up stakes and begin again in a new world! Think of the work those older ones did. For you. You all are facing a change right now.

This sheepskin is your passport.
You're bound for emigration to the next song of your life. Ohio State is the ark on which you've been sailing.
You've been the precious cargo.

But, as Noah once said, I can see clearly now the rain is gone. The ark, our university, was filled to overflowing
with the diversity of us. Diversity.
Networks and talk shows devalue the word.

I say, rather, the richness of us,
precious difference, the grand multiplicity
of selves that balance this globe and enable it to spin true. Grandson of peasant immigrants, I was given the opportunity to earn a doctorate in English literature from Ohio State—

because my family labored long nights
around the kitchen table trying to learn this arduous English. I sat where you're sitting twenty-six years ago.

Bob Dylan and Smokey Robinson got me
through. Yes, it took a prophet and Miracles!
My son earned an OSU Ph.D. in history.
Now you, graduates, are being honored—

by degrees. We've all come together around the kitchen table of Ohio State.
Ohio, Round on the ends and high in the middle. For the years to come we'll sing together, Beautiful Ohio,

in dreams again I see, Visions of what used to be. These psalms, sacred thoughts of our tribes, 78's and 33's, tapes, CD's—they take up space in shelves
of our skulls, our hearts. They remind us

we want a song beyond the run-of-the-mill thrill, the moment throbbing
with pleasure or bathed in the blues.
We ache for something grander than pure selfishness. Songs sung for one alone are not true music. Arias shared are music of the spheres, ways of saying to another something from the soul.

Of course the Buckeye Battle Cry
is there. Drive, drive on down the field,

Men (and women!) of the Scarlet and Gray. Well, you drove on down the field, and you drove up and down the streets, around and around crowded lots, looking for a place to park,

and you searched our dark, ancient library
for a decent place to study. My wife, Mary's, father marched in the first
"Script Ohio," in 1936. He's here today with us, blowing his horn, I can't help

but feel, as is the sweet mother
I lost last year, the one who gave me
the stars. Today's music makes us think of the debts we owe, and never can repay.
So many of us would not be here

were it not for the lullabies and songs of dear parents, their parents, theirs.
Some are here today in the flesh.
Many are not. We mourn them with cadences of our hearts. Think how many people sang before us, gave us a name, a voice, taught us the right words. We must cherish them by remembering every song.

When we sing to others, we honor
our fathers and mothers, thank them

for this day of profound scarlet and gray pomp and circumstance. O, come let's sing Ohio's praise, And songs to Alma Mater raise. Alma mater.
Ohio State is our sweet, nurturing mother.

We came of age here, with her help.
*Well, Mother, we love you, but, like,
it's time we moved out, got a place
of our own. You're standing there, Mom, gray hair, eyes scarlet*

from crying. We won't forget you.
Now, even though this ceremony
means we're being weaned, taken off the nipple, let's take care to cherish her all our days. Let's remember the words to the songs she taught us, and pass them on. We'll remember always, Graduation Day. *Summer's heat,

and winter's cold, The seasons pass,
the years will roll, Time and change*

will surely show How firm thy friendship,
O-hi-O. We call that little number
Carmen Ohio. Carmen means song in Latin. You've worked hard; she is your reward; today is your reward.

You're filled to overflowing with the notes, the poems we've written together. You know the score.
Continue to work hard for yourselves,
and one another. Find the ones who need you to sing to, for them, in the world.

Graduates, this joyful litany, this hymn
our ancestors collaborated on with us,
the calling of your name today is music
to our ears. Sing that name proudly

all your days, as if your life depended on it. It does, you know. It has been an honor for me to speak—and sing—
to you today. Thank you, graduates, and, again, Congratulations.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Joseph H. Lynch

Joseph H. Lynch is Distinguished University Professor in The Ohio State University Department of History. He is an expert in the history of the European Middle Ages with a special interest in ancient and medieval Christianity.

Professor Lynch received his bachelor's degree from Boston College and his master's and doctorate from Harvard University. He began his academic career at Ohio State in 1971, rising through the ranks to become the Joe R. Engle Designated Professor. He served as director of Ohio State's Center for Medieval and Renaissance Studies from 1978 to 1982 and as chair of the Department of History from 1989 to 1993.

Professor Lynch is respected both as a teacher and as a scholar, having received The Ohio State University Alumni Distinguished Teaching Award, The Ohio State University Distinguished Scholar Award, and the College of Humanities Exemplary Faculty Award.

In 2000 he received Ohio State's Distinguished University

Professorship, which has been awarded to only 35 faculty over the last 18 years.

Professor Lynch has published four influential books, including The Medieval Church: A Brief History (Longman, 1992), Godparents and Kinship in Early Medieval Europe (Princeton University Press, 1986), and Christianizing Kinship: Ritual Sponsorship in Anglo-Saxon England 597-1066 (Cornell University Press, 1998). A fifth is close to completion. He is also author of a dozen essays and articles.

He has been lauded by his peers as "easily one of the finest historians of the church and religious life now at work in the general field of early medieval Europe." Professor Lynch has also received national honors for his academic work, including fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation, and two fellowships from the American Council of Learned Societies.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

Archibald O. Haller, Jr.

Doctor of Social Science

A pioneer in modern scientific sociology, Archibald O. Haller, Jr., is professor emeritus of rural sociology and sociology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Born in southern California, he completed his undergraduate degree at Hamline University, his master's degree at the University of Minnesota, and his doctorate in sociology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Upon completion of a postdoctoral assignment at Wisconsin in 1956, he joined the sociology faculty at Michigan State University, where he began his lifelong research on social stratification structures and processes. In 1965, he returned to the University of Wisconsin, where he remained until his 1994 retirement.

Professor Haller's groundbreaking contributions to scientific sociological theories on the nature and distribution of individual authority and power and the processes by which young persons are selected onto their lifetime trajectories helped take American sociology from an underdeveloped discipline to a mature and predictive science. His publications include seven books, 10 monographs, and more than 100 research articles in technical journals and chapters in books. He continues his research into stratification by power in orderly and disorderly phases of society.

In 1982, Professor Haller was a Distinguished Visiting Professor at The Ohio State University, where he contributed greatly to the sociology program. He emphasized the need to focus more on social stratification as a key societal process and on quantitative research, both of which are strongly represented in the department today, contributing to its vitality and national ranking.

His academic career included five Fulbright grants to conduct research in Brazil, where he clarified the role that education, occupation, and income play in social stratification and how they are conditioned by environmental effects. His work had a major impact on national and regional development policy in Brazil, and his contributions to Brazilian national policy and social science were recognized by the Brazilian Order of Merit of Labor in 1981 by order of the president of Brazil.

In 2005, he was honored with a festschrift volume by his colleagues, titled The Shape of Social Inequality: Stratification in Comparative Perspective.

Shirley M. Malcom

Doctor of Science

Shirley M. Malcom is head of the Directorate for Education and Human Resources Programs of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS). The directorate includes AAAS programs in education, activities for underrepresented groups, and public understanding of science and technology. In addition, she currently serves as co-chair (with Nobel laureate Leon Lederman) of the National Science Board Commission on 21st-Century Education in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM).

A native of Birmingham, Alabama, Dr. Malcom earned her bachelor's degree with distinction from the University of Washington; her master's in zoology/animal behavior from the University of California-Los Angeles; and her doctorate in ecology from The Pennsylvania State University. She served briefly as a high school science teacher and an assistant professor of biology at the University of North Carolina-Wilmington, before moving in 1975 to Washington, D.C., to work as a research assistant at the AAAS' Office of Research Opportunities.

Having grown up in the segregated South in the 1950s and 1960s, she was keenly aware of the lack of opportunities for minorities to excel in the sciences. At AAAS, she took an inventory of the nation's science education programs and found that they often excluded minorities, and those that included minorities favored men. In 1976, she and her coauthors published the landmark study, The Double Bind: The Price of Being a Minority Woman in Science. Her research resulted in a number of innovative programs to advance education and science literacy.

From 1977 to 1979, she served as program manager with the National Science Foundation's Minority Institutions Science Improvement Program in Washington, D.C. In 1979, she became head of the AAAS Office of Opportunities in Science, serving in that capacity for 10 years before assuming her current role.

Dr. Malcom is a fellow of the AAAS and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. She served on the National Science Board, the policy-making body of the National Science Foundation, from 1994 to 1998, and, from 1994 to 2001, served on the President's Committee of Advisors on Science and Technology. In 2003, she received the Public Welfare Medal of the National Academy of Sciences, the academy's highest award.

Arthur L. Hecker

Distinguished Service Award

An expert in the field of nutritional science, Arthur L. Hecker is retired president of research and development and scientific affairs at the Ross Products Division of Abbott Laboratories. During his 28-year tenure at Ross Products, Dr. Hecker directed the development of more than 200 nutritional formulations and feeding devices, while overseeing a staff of more than 550 scientists with operations in the United States and Europe.

The Montana native earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in nutrition and biochemistry from Montana State University and his doctorate in nutritional science from Colorado State University. While working on his doctorate, he served on the faculty of Colorado State's College of Agriculture, followed by three years' service with the U.S. Army Research and Development Command as chief of the Protein-Carbohydrate Group of the Letterman Army Institute of Research in San Francisco.

After joining Ross in 1976, he began a close relationship between the Abbott Laboratories organization and The Ohio State University, working with university researchers to develop improved formulations for human and animal applications. On the human front, the scientific groundwork for nutritional products, such as Ensure, came from the labs of Ross and Ohio State. Dr. Hecker was also instrumental in securing support from the Abbott Labs Foundation toward construction of the Parker Food Science and Technology Building.

Other partnerships with Ross have benefited Ohio State programs in human nutrition, exercise physiology, and College of Medicine programs in gastroenterology, pulmonary medicine, surgery, dietetics, pediatrics, and endocrinology.

In addition to his corporate work,

Dr. Hecker has contributed countless hours of personal time to Ohio State. He has been a member of the Agricultural Administration Vice President's Advisory Board since 1977, helping to create a new vision for the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences. He is a frequent speaker at college programs, and he has fostered a faculty/graduate student cooperative research program. He currently serves on The Ohio State University Research Foundation Board, the Solae Company (DuPont) Science Advisory Board, the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges Food Systems Leadership Institute, and the board of the Columbus-based Foundation for the Challenged.

In 1998 he received Ohio State's College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences Distinguished Service Award. His other honors include four Abbott Laboratories Presidential Awards.

Richard G. Smith, III

Distinguished Service Award

Richard G. Smith, III, is executive vice president of NetJets Aviation, Inc., where he advises the Office of the Chairman on the company's flight operations, security, maintenance, and labor relations activities.

Mr. Smith learned to fly while earning his B.A. in political science at Davidson College. He began his career at NetJets (then Executive Jet Aviation) as a Learjet Line pilot in 1978 and later served as director of pilot training, chief pilot, and director of flight operations before becoming executive vice president in 1991. Today, NetJets is the premier fractional ownership and air operations management company in the nation.

Mr. Smith has been a member of The Ohio State University's Aviation Advisory Committee for more than 25 years, where he has shown his commitment to educating students interested in an aviation career. His interest in building a strong aviation program led him to provide air transportation and head a university delegation to visit the top-rated University of North Dakota School of Aerospace Sciences in 2001 to illustrate the potential for Ohio State.

In 2002, he served as chair of a College of Engineering task force charged with examining the future of aviation at Ohio State. The group's recommendations led to aviation's returning to separate and independent department status after a 10-year merger with aerospace engineering. He maintains his interest in the program as a member of the College of Engineering Dean's Strategy Council.

He is an enthusiastic supporter of the Ohio State Flight Team, which competes nationally with other college teams in demonstrating aviation knowledge and skills, and has facilitated NetJets' financial support of the flight team's needs. In addition, he has directed resources to and has personally been involved with other university programs and initiatives, including those in the Fisher College of Business; the Office of Undergraduate Admissions and First Year Experience; the Department of Industrial, Welding, and Systems Engineering; and the Wetlands project. Through his encouragement, NetJets maintains active relationships for ongoing university internships, co-op programs, and employment opportunities.

Mr. Smith has been a guest lecturer in aviation classes at Ohio State and has aided a great number of students from a variety of majors—including aviation, business, computer science, engineering, and meteorology—in seeking careers in aviation.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY CLASS GIFT

For more than a century, graduating seniors have joined together to bestow a Class Gift upon the university. This tradition began in 1891 when a group of students planted five elm trees on the Oval the evening before graduation.

Since then, Class Gifts have touched the lives of hundreds of thousands of Ohio State students, alumni, and friends. From the Orton Hall Chimes to “The Long Walk” on the Oval, Class Gifts have shaped our campus experience, helping to create the Ohio State we all know and cherish today.

Class Gifts are also shaping the Ohio State of tomorrow. The 2007 Class Gift is continuing this rich tradition. As the Class of 2007 collectively prepares to cross the stage as students and leave as graduates, they are leaving a legacy that will celebrate this special day and benefit future generations of Ohio State students for years to come.

They are leaving an indelible mark on the university—literally. Across campus, the new Ohio Union is being built. The 2007 Class Gift is a 16-foot university seal that will be embedded in the floor of the Great Hall in the new Ohio Union.

Continuing in the tradition of the first Ohio Union, the new Ohio Union will open in 2010 and serve as a hub for students to gather, participate in activities, and be part of a community. It will also be a place where alumni and friends can return to reminisce about their campus experience. The beautiful seal will serve as a focal point, reminding past, present, and future Buckeyes of the Class of 2007’s generosity.

As we continue to build on the past to build for the future, graduates who wish to make their 2007 Class Gift of $20.07 may do so online at studentcampaign.osu.edu.

The university congratulates the Class of 2007 and thanks them for making a difference at Ohio State!

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT HOLBROOK

Commencement represents a culmination and celebration of your accomplishments at The Ohio State University. It is the most solemn and yet the most joyous and exhilarating ceremony held at any university. It is a day for academia, family, and friends to gather and share with you their tears and laughter, their love and hope, and their tremendous pride for your many years of hard work and achievement. It is a day you will long remember.

Today, you join a family of more than half a million Ohio State graduates and step into a new world of rich and challenging opportunities. As graduates of The Ohio State University, you have good reason to feel a strong sense of pride and accomplishment—as well as excitement about a promising future. Working with your professors and the university community, you have built a well-rounded education and polished it with relevant experience. Upon this foundation, your education will continue to grow and help you create a lifetime of productivity, personal fulfillment, and civic responsibility.

Through time and change, you will surely remember your years at Ohio State as some of the happiest, most important, and most influential experiences of your life. And I am confident that your firm bonds to this great university will only grow stronger. Please accept my congratulations and personal best wishes on this very special day.

Karen Holbrook

CONGRATULATIONS AND WELCOME TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Congratulations on receiving your degree. You may not notice the difference, but today, along with hundreds of your colleagues, you have joined the ranks of Ohio State alumni. For you, one era has passed, and another is about to begin.

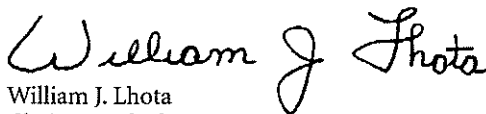

You are a member of the Buckeye family and partner in the enterprise, carrying the reputation of Ohio State through your activities and accomplishments. You exemplify the fruits of a good education: a critical mind, a discerning spirit, higher values, a sense of commitment, and the privilege of service.

You can assist the university in many ways. You can recruit new and highly qualified students. You can represent Ohio State well through personal and occupational achievements. You can participate financially through the Development Fund. And you can work in an advisory capacity with the university to improve it and its programs to better prepare today's students for tomorrow's citizenship.

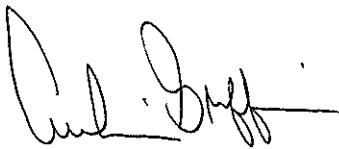

We extend to you a year's complimentary membership in the Alumni Association. Included is a year's subscription to the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will keep you informed of the university's continuing pursuit of excellence and help you keep in touch with your friends and classmates.

To you, your family, friends, and all those who helped you reach this day go our best wishes. You are joining a great family of Ohio State alumni working together to make a difference around the world.

Cordially,

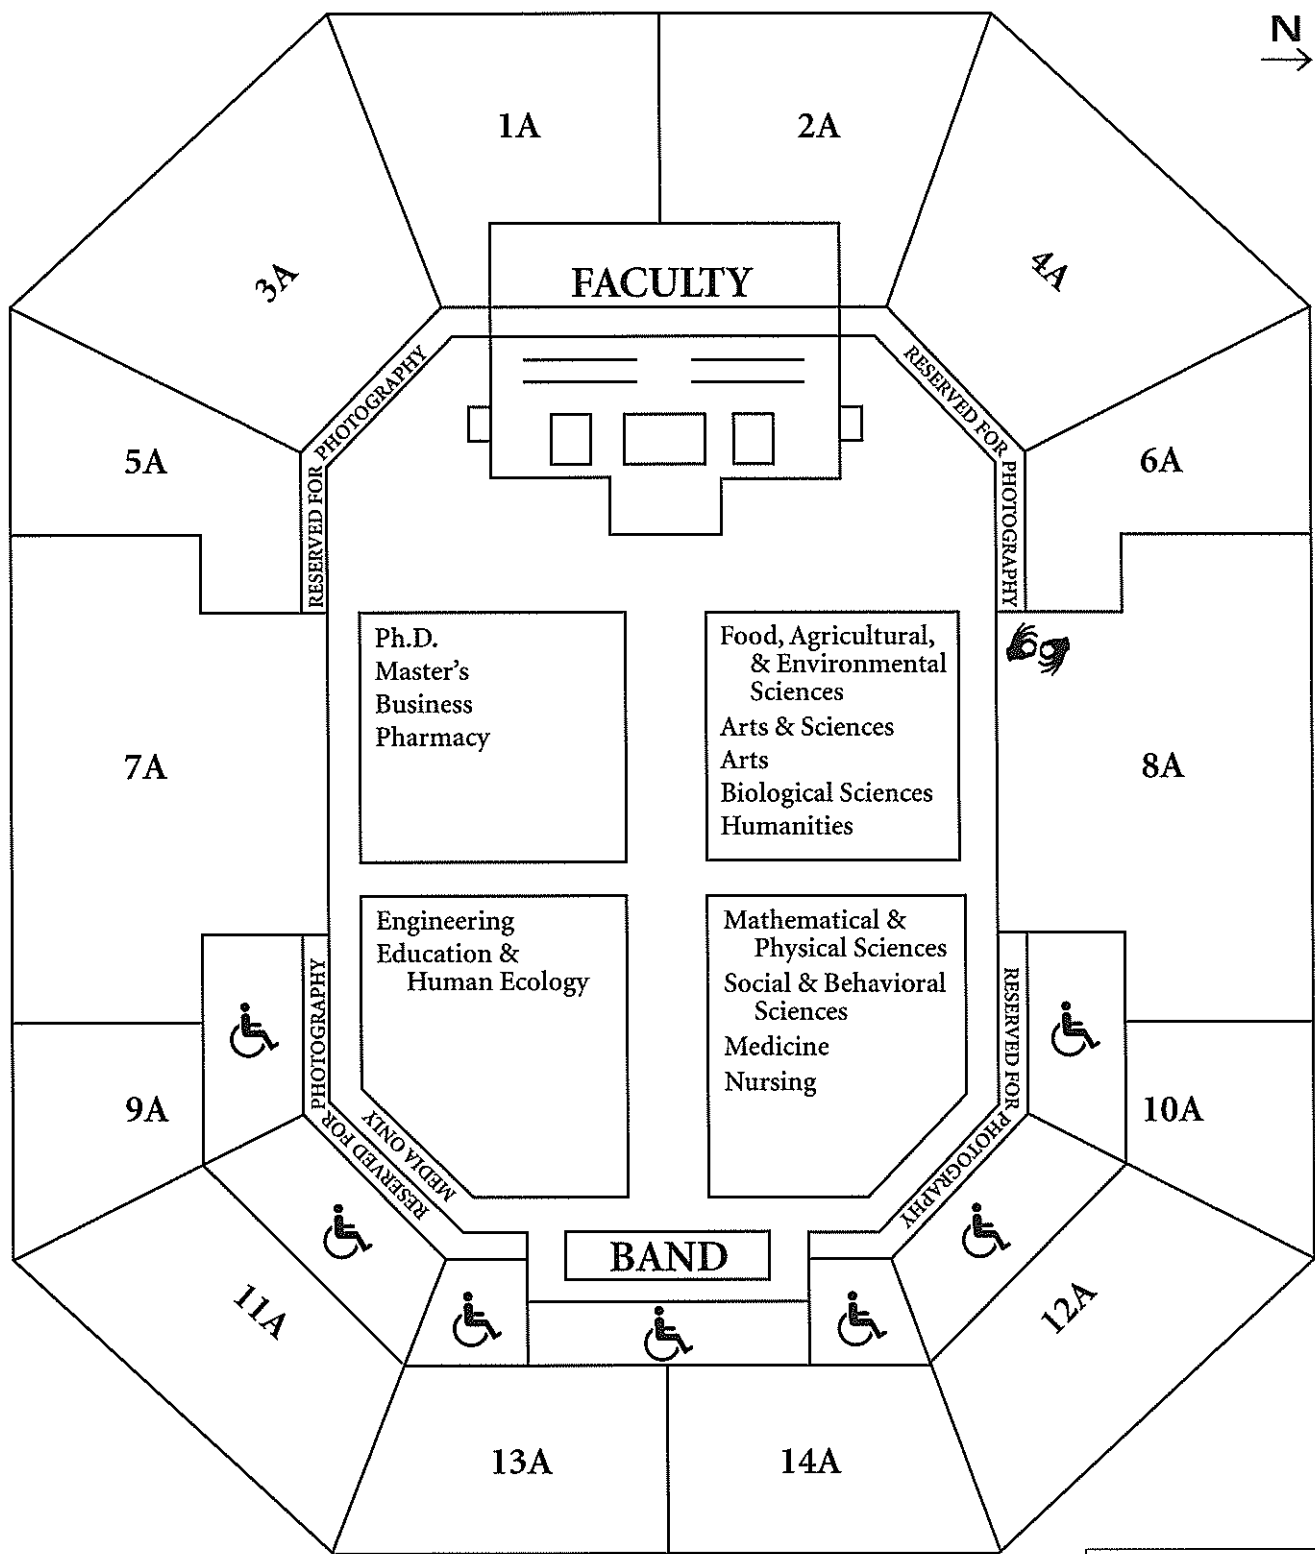

William J. Lhota

This program is not an official graduation list

This printed program lists students who were eligible to graduate for Winter Quarter 2007, as of 5:00 p.m., March 9, 2007, pending the outcome of final examinations and final grades. Therefore, it should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of The University Registrar, 320 Lincoln Tower, 1800 Cannon Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

Graduates with Honors

Criteria for graduating with honors are listed below. Grade-point averages (GPA) are based on the student's penultimate quarter.

Summa Cum Laude designates those who earned a 3.9 GPA or better.

Magna Cum Laude designates those who earned a 3.7 GPA or better.

Cum Laude designates those who earned a 3.5 GPA or better.

With Distinction requires successful completion of a Senior Honors Thesis and a 3.3 GPA or better.

With Honors in Business/Accounting requires successful completion of a prescribed honors program of study and graduation with a 3.5 GPA or better.

With Honors in Education and Human Ecology requires successful completion of an honors experience contract and graduation with a 3.4 GPA or better.

With Honors in Engineering requires successful completion of an honors experience contract and graduation with a 3.4 GPA or better.

With Honors in the Arts and Sciences requires successful completion of the Arts and Sciences Honors Contract and rank in the top 25% of the class.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencement derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length capes with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—

a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: The bachelor gown is black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: The master gown is black, long or short sleeves, with an arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: The Ohio State University Doctor of Philosophy gown is scarlet with gray velvet panels on the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Other doctor gowns are black with velvet panels and bars, the color of which is distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, and with honors.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School (Ph.D.) .....	Gray
(Master's) .....	Black
Colleges of the Arts and Sciences .....	White
College of the Arts (B.A., B.S.I.D.) .....	White
(Others) .....	Brown
School of Music (B.A.) .....	White

College of Nursing .....	Apricot
College of Optometry .....	Seafoam Green
College of Pharmacy .....	Olive Green
College of Public Health .....	Salmon
College of Social Work .....	Citron
College of Veterinary Medicine .....	Gray

* Not usually worn by candidates for a degree.

The gold tassel is worn frequently by those holding the doctoral degree and by college and university administrative officers.

Photography

Designated areas in the first row of the mezzanine are reserved for picture-taking by guests. No permanent seating or placement of video cameras is permitted in these areas.
