Winter
Commencement 2012

OHIO STATE

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,

And songs to Alma Mater raise;

While our hearts rebounding thrill,

With joy which death alone can still.

Summer's heat or Winter's cold,

The seasons pass, the years will roll;

Time and change will surely show

How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

POMP, CIRCUMSTANCE, AND OTHER SONGS OF A LIFETIME

—by Professor David Citino, 1947-2005, Late University Post Laureate (Originally presented as the 2000 Winter Commencement address)

If you're like me, you've got a big head, not to mention a funny robe, full of music—poems and melodies, the tunes we move to, shower and shave by, study, write to. Not just the incidental, but the momentous music keeping time. Our histories are measures of song. Listen to your heart: drums of Africa, sea-spume of blind, far-sighted Homer, Sappho's honeyed love lyrics. Often, music speaks for us, one note saying a thousand words. Like Rodolpho in Puccini's La Boheme, Sono un poeta. I am a poet. Che cosa faccio? What do I do? Scrivo. I write. This ceremony is loud music—pomp and circumstance of the life you began freshman year or that first day of graduate school. In my head I press Play, and the CD of Big Days kicks on. I leap and linger over moments too sweet, nearly, for words. I'll never escape rhymes from the nursery. Up above the world so high, like a diamond in the sky. We knew from the start our universe was aglow with wonder.

Italian, Latin, English songs in nasal accents of Cleveland. Gaudeamus igitur, Juvenes dum sumus. So, let us rejoice, while we are young. Youth is that gift we can't comprehend while we're young. This ceremony means you all are less young than you were. Don't let the heavy knowledge gained from your studies deprive you of the gifts of youth, to be able to rejoice at the drop of a hat, to care for, be moved by others.

Now I hear golden hits of five decades. Big Mama Thornton, and that so-called King (King of what, fried butter sandwiches?) who stole away her hound dog. You ain't never killed a rabbit, you ain't no friend of mine. As with those profs and TAs, course after course, you had to produce—kill some rabbits—to earn respect. And at times OSU may have seemed like Heartbreak Hotel, down at the end of Lonely Street, so difficult was it to do your best. Tennessee Ernie Ford, "Sixteen Tons": St. Peter don't you call me 'Cause I can't go. I owe my soul to the company store.

You have been digging deep in mines of knowledge. We all owe our souls to Ohio State, company store of learning, shared experience—precious ore we have in common forever.

Now I hear Domenico Modugno's fervent urging to wish, sing, fly, Volare, Wo-oo. Cantare, Wo-o-o-o. My grandfather was a peasant farmer, a contadino in Calabria in the toe of Italy. He knew it's the human lot to dream of flying. Lucky, lucky, lucky me, I'm a lucky son-of-a-gun. I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours, That leaves eight hours for fun.

Hey! He sailed in steerage across the Atlantic, came to Cleveland, where he stayed long enough to work 52 years for the B&O Railroad, before lying down to rest in good Ohio soil. So many of us here today came from elsewhere, or ancestors did. From Tennessee, Italy, Africa, Asia, Appalachia—even, President Kirwan, the wilds of Kentucky and Maryland. Women and men with backs supple as birch trunks. The courage it took to pick up stakes and begin again in a new world! Think of the work those older ones did. For you. You all are facing a change right now.

This sheepskin is your passport. You're bound for emigration to the next song of your life. Ohio State is the ark on which you've been sailing. You've been the precious cargo.

But, as Noah once said, I can see clearly now the rain is gone. The ark, our university, was filled to overflowing with the diversity of us. Diversity. Networks and talk shows devalue the word.

I say, rather, the richness of us, precious difference, the grand multiplicity of selves that balance this globe and enable it to spin true. Grandson of peasant immigrants, I was given the opportunity to earn a doctorate in English literature from Ohio State—because my family labored long nights around the kitchen table trying to learn this arduous English. I sat where you're sitting twenty-six years ago. Bob Dylan and Smokey Robinson got me through. Yes, it took a prophet and Miracles! My son earned an OSU Ph.D. in history. Now you, graduates, are being honored—by degrees. We've all come together around the kitchen table of Ohio State. Ohio, Round on the ends and high in the middle. For the years to come we'll sing together, Beautiful Ohio, in dreams again I see, Visions of what used to be. These psalms, sacred thoughts of our tribes, 78's and 33's, tapes, CD's—they take up space in shelves of our skulls, our hearts. They remind us we want a song beyond the run-of-the-mill thrill, the moment throbbing with pleasure or bathed in the blues. We ache for something grander than pure selfishness. Songs sung for one alone are not true music. Arias shared are music of the spheres, ways of saying to another something from the soul. Of course the Buckeye Battle Cry is there. Drive, drive on down the field,

Men (and women!) of the Scarlet and Gray. Well, you drove on down the field, and you drove up and down the streets, around and around crowded lots, looking for a place to park, and you searched our dark, ancient library for a decent place to study. My wife, Mary's, father marched in the first "Script Ohio," in 1936. He's here today with us, blowing his horn, I can't help but feel, as is the sweet mother I lost last year, the one who gave me the stars. Today's music makes us think of the debts we owe, and never can repay. So many of us would not be here were it not for the lullabies and songs of dear parents, their parents, theirs. Some are here today in the flesh. Many are not. We mourn them with cadences of our hearts. Think how many people sang before us, gave us a name, a voice, taught us the right words. We must cherish them by remembering every song. When we sing to others, we honor our fathers and mothers, thank them for this day of profound scarlet and gray pomp and circumstance. O, come let's sing Ohio's praise, And songs to Alma Mater raise. Alma mater. Ohio State is our sweet, nurturing mother.

We came of age here, with her help. Well, Mother, we love you, but, like, it's time we moved out, got a place of our own. You're standing there, Mom, gray hair, eyes scarlet from crying. We won't forget you. Now, even though this ceremony means we're being weaned, taken off the nipple, let's take care to cherish her all our days. Let's remember the words to the songs she taught us, and pass them on. We'll remember always, Graduation Day. Summer's heat, and winter's cold, The seasons pass, the years will roll, Time and change will surely show How firm thy friendship, O-hi-O. We call that little number Carmen Ohio. Carmen means song in Latin. You've worked hard; she is your reward; today is your reward.

You're filled to overflowing with the notes, the poems we've written together. You know the score. Continue to work hard for yourselves, and one another. Find the ones who need you to sing to, for them, in the world. Graduates, this joyful litany, this hymn our ancestors collaborated on with us, the calling of your name today is music to our ears. Sing that name proudly all your days, as if your life depended on it. It does, you know. It has been an honor for me to speak—and sing—to you today. Thank you, graduates, and, again, Congratulations.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Richard K. Herrmann

Richard K. Herrmann is professor and chair of the Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University. From 2002 to 2011 he served as the director of the Mershon Center for International Security Studies, which fosters interdisciplinary faculty and student research on national security in a global context. He joined the faculty in 1981 and is known widely for his exceptional scholarship in the field of international relations, as well as for his leadership of the department and his tremendous talents as an educator.

Professor Herrmann has written on topics ranging from U.S. and Russian relations during the Cold War, to the politics of the Middle East, to U.S. relations with Iran. Recently, he has published articles on the relationship between national and ethnic identities and inter-group relations, and the role ideology plays in shaping decisions. He also has written extensively on improving the analysis conducted both by academia and the intelligence community. His work pays special attention to overcoming predictable biases in perception and likely mistakes made in calculations.

Professor Herrmann has written or edited three books, and his articles have appeared in the field's leading journals, including International Security, International Organization, World Politics, American Journal of Political Science, and American Political Science Review. He spent five years, 1991–1996, as the co-editor of International Studies Quarterly, the flagship journal of the International Studies Association.

During his tenure at Ohio State, Professor Herrmann has been awarded many prestigious awards and fellowships. He served on the policy planning staff of the U.S. Department of State as a Council on Foreign Relations International Fellow. He received the award for research on Soviet-American relations and conflicts in the Middle East from the Harriman Institute at Columbia University, and he was awarded the Fellowship in International Security from the Ford Foundation. He has received numerous grants from the National Science Foundation, U.S. Institute of Peace, U.S. Information Agency, and Carnegie Corporation.

In 2009, Professor Herrmann won the Arts and Sciences Student Council Outstanding Teaching Award for his courses on international relations and foreign policy, demonstrating his dedication to education in the classroom in addition to his prolific research and scholarship. He received a BA from Miami University in Ohio and a PhD in political science from the University of Pittsburgh.

RECIPIENTS OF HONORS

Keith L. Moore

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

Keith L. Moore is professor emeritus in the division of anatomy, Department of Surgery, in the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Toronto. Prior to his retirement in 1991, he was chair of anatomy and associate dean of basic medical sciences. He is a distinguished researcher, whose work has had a major impact on the field of anatomy and on the advancement of medicine.

Professor Moore is responsible for research that formed the basis of many techniques currently used worldwide for the screening and diagnosis of human genetic conditions. His early research centered on the causes of birth defects and the detection of chromosomal abnormalities in persons with Down Syndrome, Klinefelter Syndrome, and Turner Syndrome. He was the first person to observe that patients with Klinefelter Syndrome have an extra X chromosome.

Professor Moore served in the Royal Canadian Navy during World War II as a paramedic. It was this experience that stimulated his interest in the medical sciences.

Since then, he has published 60 scientific papers based on his research and teaching, mainly in the field of genetics and embryology. He has authored 13 textbooks, some of which are the most widely used resources in the field of human anatomy. His first book, The Developing Human, now in the 9th edition, was published in 1973 and soon became the book of choice for the study of embryology.

During his celebrated 60 years of teaching, he has been closely involved with educational innovations and curricular design. He has given lectures all over the world to faculties and students on a range of topics related to anatomy and genetics. At the University of Toronto, Professor Moore held many administrative positions, represented the Faculty of Medicine in the senate of the university, and served on several university committees.

In 1984, Professor Moore was the recipient of the J.C.B. Grant Award, the highest honor given by the Canadian Association of Anatomists. He became an honored member of the American Association of Clinical Anatomists in 1994 for his scholarship and service. In 2007 he was recipient of the Henry Gray/Elsevier Distinguished Educator Award, and in 2008 he became a fellow of the American Association of Anatomists, an honor designed to recognize distinguished members who have demonstrated excellence in science, specifically their overall contributions to the anatomical sciences. He received a BA and MS in anatomy and a PhD in microscopic anatomy, from the University of Western Ontario.

Randall B. Ripley

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

Randall B. Ripley is a professor emeritus in the Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University. Prior to his retirement in 2005, he was dean of Social and Behavioral Sciences from 1992 to 2004, as well as chair of the Department of Political Science from 1969 to 1991. He has served in a wide variety of educational and administrative roles at the university and has done much to elevate the stature of Ohio State in the areas of political science, public policy, and international and graduate studies. His legacy on campus continues to thrive.

Before arriving at Ohio State, Professor Ripley served for four years on the staff of the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C. Prior to Brookings, he served as a staff member in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Professor Ripley's research, writing, and teaching have focused on many different aspects of American and Canadian politics. He has published extensively on congressional behavior, bureaucratic behavior, the creation and implementation of domestic and foreign national public policy, and the influence of American labor unions on elections. He has authored, coauthored, or edited nearly 20 books and dozens of articles in his field, and he has presented his work to a wide range of institutions, including the American Political Science Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the National Commission for Employment Policy, and the Ohio Association of Political Scientists and Economists.

Throughout his tenure as professor, chair, and dean, Professor Ripley distinguished himself as an accomplished administrator, a caring mentor to students and faculty, and a beloved and respected professor. As chair of the Graduate School Review Committee in the mid-1990s, he helped propose recommendations that have since improved the Graduate School in important new ways. As chair of numerous search committees, he helped recruit talented faculty members to Ohio State. Professor Ripley also was instrumental in facilitating the relationship between Ohio State and John and Annie Glenn that ultimately led to the creation of the John Glenn School of Public Affairs. He is known widely as one of the university's most accomplished administrators, working tirelessly to lead the Department of Political Science and Social and Behavioral Sciences to world-class status. He earned his BA at DePauw University and his PhD in political science at Harvard University.

Elizabeth J. Watters

Elizabeth J. Watters is a magistrate with the Franklin County Court of Common Pleas, currently assigned to Judges Charles A. Schneider and Michael J. Holbrook. Prior to becoming a magistrate, she practiced law in New York City and Columbus, and represented clients in all aspects of civil litigation and employment law. Most notably, Ms. Watters is past president of the Columbus Bar Association and served as outside counsel for the State of Ohio's case against the tobacco industry, resulting in a $10 billion settlement for the state.

As a dedicated alumna of Ohio State, Ms. Watters has selflessly given hundreds of hours of her time, expertise, and personal resources to advance the university. She is a member of the President's Club Advisory Board, working with colleagues and alumni across all colleges and units to support students and advance Ohio State's mission.

Ms. Watters received a BA in sociology and a JD from the Moritz College of Law at The Ohio State University. For almost 20 years, she has served on the Moritz National Council, an alumni advisory group that offers advice on plans and programs, recognizes the accomplishments of graduates, and assists the college with its fundraising efforts. She has served as president of the Moritz Law Alumni Society and is a consistent presence around the law school. She has established three funds benefiting law students, alumni, and the Moritz Law library, including the Elizabeth J. Watters Endowment Fund for Alumni Relations and Development to support the college's outreach and engagement efforts with a focus on fostering relationships with recent graduates.

Ms. Watters' support for the university extends well beyond the college of law. She supports activities and programs ranging from WOSU to athletics to study abroad experiences. Most recently, she volunteered and served as a philanthropic leader for the Ohio Staters, Inc.'s 75th Anniversary gift to the Ohio Union and the Sphinx Senior Honorary 100th Anniversary. Having belonged to both organizations as a student at Ohio State, she has helped to secure the future of Ohio Staters, Inc., and Sphinx by raising funds, directing alumni activities, and providing incomparable leadership. Ms. Watters continues to be a beloved mentor to many students and alumni of Ohio State, and received the Failer Award from The Ohio State University Alumni Association for her service to students. She is regarded as someone who raised the bar for those who wish to make a difference for the university.

The Ohio State University 2012 Class Gift

On the eve of graduation in 1891, a group of Ohio State students planted five elm trees on the Oval. Now, more than a century later, "The Five Brothers" grove still grows and the tradition of bestowing a Class Gift upon the university continues.

Through the years, graduating seniors have helped shape the campus experience of countless students, alumni, and friends of Ohio State by offering a Class Gift. The chimes of Orton Hall, "The Long Walk" on the Oval, the beautification of Mirror Lake, and University Hall's tower clock are but a few of the special projects funded by students wishing to commemorate their time spent at this great university.

Members of the 2012 class have an opportunity to leave their unique legacy and participate in Ohio State's history of giving. By making a gift to Ohio State, graduating seniors can express appreciation for the education they have received by giving to the area that has meant the most to them like scholarships, colleges, offices, departments, programs, athletics, or student life.

As we continue to build for the future by building on the foundations of the past, graduates who wish to commit $20.12 or other amount as part of the 2012 Class Gift may do so online at studentcampaign.osu.edu.

The university congratulates the graduates of 2012, and thanks them for their contributions to the Ohio State community.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT GEE

Graduates:

Take a moment and look around you. Your friends, family, and fellow new alumni are together today to celebrate one of life's major milestones—your successful passage through four (or more!) rigorous years of higher education.

Believe it or not, I once also wore the robes of a young college graduate and I can assure you I still vividly remember the feeling of that enormous achievement—one that I hope prompts you to stand taller and walk a bit more proudly.

In the spirit of the occasion, I offer a few words of encouragement. The world today is full of unique and exciting opportunities for college graduates. Indeed, whatever discipline you have decided to pursue for yourself, endless possibilities are now open to you to create, to repair, to heal, to inform, and to inspire in previously unimaginable ways. My belief is that wherever there is a job to be done, no one is better suited for it than a graduate of Ohio State.

Personally, I am more confident than ever before in the knowledge and skills you have earned by making your way through this great university. The wisdom you have gained will make you valuable stewards of the community in which you belong, as well as the world that you inherit. More and more frequently, it is a world that calls for inspiration and imagination. But this—to my mind—means only that everyone should grow very accustomed to hearing, with increasing frequency: O-H!

Sincerely,

E. Gordon Gee
President

CONGRATULATIONS AND WELCOME TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

On behalf of The Ohio State University Alumni Association, we congratulate you on your academic achievement! For you, one era has passed and another is about to begin. In receiving your degree today, you are joining a distinguished body of nearly 500,000 Ohio State alumni who are making a difference in all parts of the world.

Your university has provided you with a well-rounded education that will help you become the leaders of tomorrow. We encourage you to build on your many accomplishments by doing something great: pay forward to your communities and make a difference in the lives of others.

We want you always to be passionate about your alma mater and continue to stay connected and actively engaged in many ways, including virtually through ohiostatealumni.org, and through membership in The Ohio State University Alumni Association. We want to be your gateway in connecting with Ohio State. Therefore, your first year of membership is complimentary and includes many benefits, such as a subscription to Ohio State Alumni Magazine, which will help you stay informed about the university's ambitious agenda and connected with friends and classmates. In addition, the Alumni Association offers many educational programs for its members and networking opportunities to connect and engage, including through alumni clubs in every state and in many countries around the world, and through alumni societies in your colleges.

We celebrate you today and wholeheartedly share in your enthusiasm and all that you have achieved. Your success is driving Ohio State's move from excellence to eminence, and we will continue to count on you to carry on the university's rich and vibrant tradition and reputation. Again, congratulations to you, your family, friends, and all who have helped you reach this milestone in your life as you receive your diploma from The Ohio State University.

Sincerely,

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

Advancing graduate education for over 100 years

Congratulations to those of you receiving degrees this year from the Graduate School as we celebrate our 100th anniversary. Today, over 400 new master's and nearly 100 PhDs will join the more than 157,500 graduate alumni since the Graduate School's founding in 1911. To put this in perspective, the Graduate School awarded just two PhDs and 52 master's degrees in its second year of existence. The growth from then to now is extraordinary and helps demonstrate why Ohio State and Ohio State graduate alumni are known all over the world.

Of the many recurring themes from the past 100 years, our national conversation has once again turned to the significant value that graduate degree holders add to any employment sector. This growing demand has a truly global reach. Employers need individuals who demonstrate those qualities that have always distinguished students pursuing graduate degrees—they are forward thinking, creative, and motivated. The PhD, for example, prepares individuals to engage in independent research and to creatively formulate new questions. With these skills, our graduates are uniquely prepared to address and help solve the challenges facing humanity that arise every day in our increasingly complex world.

During the Graduate School's centennial year, we are underscoring the value of graduate education through the following projects:

- Creating opportunities for new, professionally oriented master's programs that meet local, state, and national needs
- Exploring new directions in doctoral education
- Hosting a summit at Ohio State in May focusing on career pathways for graduate students
- Celebrating the achievements of our current graduate students

Additionally, I am reaching out to Ohio State Graduate School alumni to see how they are using their degrees. If you are one of today's graduates, or alumnus or alumna, I am eager to hear your story and gain your perspective on our graduate activities at Ohio State. You can participate in these discussions on the Graduate School blog at go.osu.edu/GradSchoolblog. I welcome all of you to write me directly at osmer.1@osu.edu.

Sincerely,

Patrick S. Osmer
Vice Provost for Graduate Studies and Dean of the Graduate School

This program is not an official graduation list.

This printed program lists students who were eligible to graduate for Winter Quarter 2012, as of 5:00 p.m., March 9, 2012, pending the outcome of final examinations and final grades. Therefore, it should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of the University Registrar, Student Academic Services Building, 281 West Lane Avenue, Columbus, OH 43210-1132.

This program is not an official graduation list.

This printed program lists students who were eligible to graduate for Winter Quarter 2012, as of 5:00 p.m., March 9, 2012, pending the outcome of final examinations and final grades. Therefore, it should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status. The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the student's permanent academic record, kept by the Office of the University Registrar, Student Academic Services Building, 281 West Lane Avenue, Columbus, OH 43210-1132.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The colorful ceremonies of The Ohio State University commencements derive from practices originating in the Middle Ages. When European universities were taking form in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars were usually clerics, and consequently they adopted costumes similar to those of their monastic orders. Cold halls and drafty buildings called for caps and floor-length gowns with attached hoods, and the sobering influence of the church probably influenced the staid character of the caps and gowns.

As the control of the universities gradually passed from the church, some aspects of the costumes took on brighter hues. Old prints and engravings, however, reveal a strong similarity between the regalia worn in early universities and that of the present day.

In light of our nation's English heritage, academic costume has been in use in the United States since colonial times. To establish a standard of uniformity in regard to the practice, an intercollegiate commission was formed to prepare a code for caps, gowns, and hoods that has since been adopted by all academic institutions.

Originally round, the shape of the cap is now the familiar mortarboard square—a shape which, according to ballad folklore, resembles a scholar's book. Legend also has it that the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave; the academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The flowing gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it covers any dress that might indicate rank or social status. The hood, reserved at The Ohio State University for those receiving doctoral and master's degrees, not only indicates the type of degree, but also is lined with the official colors of the university.

The Gown

Bachelor: The bachelor gown is black, full cut with long pointed sleeves.

Master: The master gown is black, long or short sleeves, with an arc-shaped panel extended for each sleeve.

Doctor: The Ohio State University Doctor of Philosophy gown is scarlet with gray velvet panels on the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. Other doctor gowns are black with velvet panels and bars, the color of which is distinctive of the field of study.

Honors Emblem

The Ohio State University honors emblem is a scarlet and gray tasseled braid worn over the gown. Students eligible for this curricular honor are those graduating summa cum laude, magna cum laude, cum laude, with distinction, and with honors.

The Hood

Bachelor: Three feet long with a two-inch-wide velvet edging.*

Master: Three and one-half feet long with a three-inch-wide velvet edging.

Doctor: Four feet in length with a five-inch-wide velvet edging and panel at the sides.

The lining of all hoods, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study.

Cap and Tassel

Candidates for degrees at The Ohio State University wear the black mortarboard with a tassel whose color is distinctive of the degree being received. The tassel colors are as follows:

Graduate School (PhD)	Gray
